COVERS NORTHERN VERMONT

Tour of Progressive Presidential Candidate Carries Him Through Rural Sections—Colonel Assails His Critics, Defends New Party and Attacks John D. Archbold and Senator Penrose.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., Aug. 31.—Colonel Roosevelt struck up an intimate acquaintance with the rural sections of Northern Vermont during his automobile campaign through the state. He made five speeches and received such a welcome that he said he thought Vermont was waking up.

Before a lively crowd in the courthouse square here Colonel Roosevelt made a speech which brought him many cheers. He assailed his critics and defended the Progressive party. John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company and Senator Penrose were attacked for their testimony before the senate investigating committee.

"I thought for a time that they would do some damage to the Progressive party," he said, "but the Lord hath led them into my hands, I have them on the hip. I have them in the open. I'll hew them as Israel hewed Ammon, hip and thigh."

Colonel Roosevelt explained why it was that he declared himself in favor of woman suffrage. He said that he had not been influenced to this view by the women who devoted their time to promoting the cause of suffrage, but rather through his acquaintance with women like Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, whom he had come to know through their interest in sociological work.

Scores Stanley Committee.

In speaking on the trust question Colonel Roosevelt declared that neither the Democrats nor the Republicans had an effective plan and that "the big trusts cordially approved of both platforms." He denounced the Stanley congressional committee which investigated the trust question as "mere sound and fury" and explained the proposal of the Progressive party.

The colonel criticized former President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard for a newspaper interview, which he said Dr. Eliot had repudiated, in which he was quoted as saying that it was in bad taste for Colonel Roosevelt to bring Miss Jane Addams into publicity by speaking of her in accepting the Progressive nomination.

The colonel's first speech was at St. Albans. Then he sped on to Morrisville, where he spoke at the Lamolli county fair.

The colonel rode through a secluded section in which houses were rare enough to attract attention and the villages far apart. Pausing for a brief speech at Hardwick he went on to Burton and thence to St. Johnsbury. When he reached here he was welcomed by a marching club of 150 men who wore bandanas and sang "Take a little tip from father and vote for the old Bull Moose."

Before bringing his Vermont campaign to a close he will speak at Barre, Randolph, Bellows Falls and Brattleboro.

ELECTRIC CHAIRTwo New York Gunmen May Turn State's Evidence.

BECKER'S LAWYER IS WRATHY

Counsel for Police Lieutenant Under Indictment as Instigator of the Murder of Herman Rosenthal Severely Flays District Attorney Whitman and Denounces "Trial in the Newspapers."

New York, Aug. 31.—Whitey Lewis and Dago Frank Cirofio, the indicted gunmen in the Rosenthal murder case, were reported to be ready to turn state's evidence on condition that they be let off with light sentences.

The men had received favorably, it was said, the offer of a certain lawyer who visited them in the Tombs to use his influence with District Attorney Whitman to get them off with a light punishment in return for a sequel.

The lawyer assured them that this was their one chance to escape the extreme penalty of the murder charge against them, according to the report, and they could probably get off with five years each.

The gunmen then authorized the lawyer to negotiate terms with the district attorney, it is said, but owing to Mr. Whitman's departure for Manchester, Vt., to remain over Sunday, no action was taken by the lawyer.

John F. McIntyre, counsel for Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted as instigator of the murder, issued a statement declaring that "the trial of Becker in the newspapers has been a disgraceful proceeding."

"Day after day," said Mr. McIntyre, "that which transpires in the grand jury room is expressed broadcast and done only with one viewpoint—to so bias and prejudice the public mind that the accused will be denied a fair and impartial trial."

Declares Proceedings Unusual.

"Every sacred right guaranteed by the Constitution has been obliterated and every tradition of criminal jurisprudence violated. Never in the history of the country has there been such a spectacle."

"The indictment was returned some weeks ago against Becker; yet if we are told tonight by the newspapers every day since then some one, who, it is assumed, will testify for the defendant, is brought to the grand jury room and there, as it is stated in the public prints, grilled by the district attorney."

"It is done to menace or intimidate to an extent that is alarming many that are willing and anxious to tell the truth in behalf of the defense. It is not usual for a district attorney to call witnesses supposed to be for the defense in the guise of a grand jury mandate, obviously to learn what the defendant and his witnesses will say upon a trial to be held."

"It is a most novel way of anticipating a defense and in my judgment unlawful."

Mr. McIntyre denied reports that Gyp the Glond and Lettie Louis would be produced by the defense as witnesses or that any witnesses of the state had been "spirited away."

Becker's counsel, it is understood, has agreed with District Attorney Whitman to interpose no legal technicalities looking to further delay of his client's trial when Becker is arraigned for pleading next Tuesday.

Mexican Charge Says Depredations Due to Collapse of Rebellion.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Present unsettled conditions in Northern Mexico and the danger to foreigners in that region were charged to the "collapse" of the Orozco rebellion and the breaking up of the rebel army into small predatory bands, in a statement issued by Senor de la Cueva, charge of the Mexican embassy.

Senor Cueva declared that the Mexican federal troops had practically disbanded the Orozco force and that the scattered remnants were seeking to force intervention by the United States through ravaging the border country.

Burke's resignation has not yet been placed officially before the council, as it was sent during the summer recess, which will not end until next month.

Must Appear in Court in Person or by Guardian.

New York, Aug. 31.—John Jacob Astor, the posthumous heir of Colonel John Jacob Astor, who went down with the Titanic, was formally served with papers in legal proceedings for the reprobating of the will left by his father.

Dr. Edward B. Cragin, the attending physician at the baby's birth, reported to the surrogate that he had served notice on the infant that he appear in court on Sept. 4, either in person or by a guardian, to attend the reprobating. Mrs. Astor was served with similar papers.

Colonel Astor's will had been probated before the baby was born and the reopening of the probate was made necessary by the birth, as the infant is named as a beneficiary and must appear by guardian. Surrogate Fowler appointed E. L. Winthrop as guardian in the reprobating proceedings.

CONGRESS GOT
TIRED OF ITSELF

Nothing Was Being Accomplished, So Members Wanted to Quit.

POLITICS HAD RIGHT OF WAY.

Senator Bailey Predicts That the Democrats Will Control the Government For the Next Fifty Years—Session Was Most Strenuous Ever Had in Conferences Between Houses.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 31.—[Special.]—Probably one reason why congress became so weary of itself and wanted to get away was because nothing was being accomplished. The longer congress remained in session the less use it seemed to be. Long before the end all possible campaign material had been duly printed so as to give it free entry to the mail, and when all is said and done there is not very much more expected from a congress in a presidential year. The politics injected into the debates during the close of the session showed extreme bitterness and a discontent rarely known. If the senators and members of congress who spoke represented the feelings of the people this is likely to be a very intense political campaign.

Brighter For Bailey.

Senator Bailey contributed interest to the political discussion when he predicted that the Democrats would control the government for the next fifty years. And Bailey is about to retire to private life. More than that, he says he left the senate because he was not in harmony with the prevailing sentiment in the Democratic party. "Even Senator Bacon will no longer support me in my fight for Democratic principles and upholding the constitution," said the Texas senator. And yet he says this Democratic party, which has drifted so far from him that he had to leave politics, is to have control for half a century. Certainly things are looking brighter for Bailey.

Champ Clark, Optimist.

Much is to be accomplished by the Democratic party when it comes into full control of the government after the 4th of March, according to Speaker Clark in his farewell to congress. Champ also gave the keynote of the Democratic campaign, which is that all the good things which the Democrats would have accomplished were stopped by President Taft. Champ is certainly an optimist, or can make it appear so, when we all know that the loss of the great prize at Baltimore still ranks him.

"Most Strenuous Time."

"This session has been the most strenuous time we have ever had in conferences with the other house," remarked Senator Warren, chairman of the committee on appropriations. Warren was being criticised for something which had been done in conference. He was also commiserated for having so much conference work to do. This, however, was in sarcasm, as senators are very sore because Warren has been a conferee on more than half a dozen big appropriation bills. Next year they intend to relieve him of so much responsibility, and he will have a less "strenuous time."

"Hands Up."

When it was proposed to attach to the deficiency appropriation bill that graft of many years, an extra month's salary to the employees of congress. Chairman Warren remarked that it reminded him of happenings in the west many years ago, when people had to obey the command, "Hands up!" At that time in the sessions, owing to the lack of a quorum, the committee had to submit to "holdups" of that kind.

Valuable Memento.

Senator John Sharp Williams was discussing the universal topic and criticising the ex-president for speaking slightly of Thomas Jefferson. He was having a controversy with Senator Borah and in the course of his remarks said, "I long ago offered a chromo, and I will give it to the senator from Idaho willingly and pay $2.50 for it."

"I hope the senator's picture will accompany it," interrupted Borah. "That will make it a memento worth preserving."

"I will present him a chromo," continued the Mississippi senator, "if he can quote anything from ex-President Roosevelt regarding any president who ever sat in the White House except Abraham Lincoln and himself that was complimentary at all."

"He's Little, but, Oh, My!"

"Burnett, buildings and battleships," might be the title of a little story of congressional experience. Burnett is the smallest man in the house. He is the second man on the public buildings committee, and as the chairman of that committee was running for the senate in Texas, Burnett became the acting chairman. He wanted a public building bill. The Democrats in the interests of economy decided against one. Burnett decided against battleships, and he won a partial victory. One battleship only was the result of a long fought contest. But there were no public buildings. Nor was Burnett, who is chairman of the immigration committee, able to get his immigration bill passed. It is easier to defeat legislation than pass it.

In addition Governor Stubbs has ordered every expert of the Kansas veterinary board to proceed into the counties affected and attempt to conquer the disease.

FALLS TWO THOUSAND
FEET FROM BALLOONTragic Death of Boy Horrifies
County Fair Crowd.

Flint, Mich., Aug. 31.—In the presence of hundreds of people fourteen-year-old Chester Betts, son of Bert N. Betts of Flint, was accidentally caught by the guy rope of a balloon and carried about 2,000 feet in the air before the rope untangled and hurled him to his death. He crashed against the roof of a barn. He was still alive when spectators reached him, but soon expired.

The tragedy occurred at the county fair and when the balloon and aeronaut shot upward many people thought the youth dangling at the end of a rope was a dummy. The heroic efforts of the balloonist to rescue the boy soon disclosed the truth to the crowd below. As the big bag crept higher and higher the aeronaut, in peril of his own safety, could be seen working desperately to pull the dangling form to the trapeze.

Finally the rope swirled away from the lad and the tiny form dropped downward like a stone.

GOVERNOR CAN'T JOIN CLUB

Minnesota Attorney General Construes Corrupt Practices Act.

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—Candidates for office will violate the corrupt practices law if they join a political club during the campaign, which charges fees or dues, according to Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, who gave the opinion to Governor A. O. Eberhart. The governor had been asked to join a club which charges a dollar admission fee and asked whether this was permissible. The attorney general holds it comes under the head of contributions prohibited by the new law.

WAGE SCALE IS REJECTED

Chicago Controversy Is to Be Settled by Arbitration.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Rejection of the new three-year contract granting a cent an hour increase in pay was the outcome of balloting of 10,000 Chicago street car men. A prominent official of the union said the proposed wage agreement had been overwhelmingly defeated.

The president of the companies said the chance of a strike was remote, as the whole question now will revert to arbitration.

FORMER ST. PAUL MAN DIES

Captain Moffett, Once Part Owner of the Globe, Succumbs.

Waynesboro, Va., Aug. 31.—Captain George H. Moffett, who died here at a summer resort after a brief illness, was one of the framers of West Virginia's constitution and a railroad builder well known throughout the West.

After serving several years in the West Virginia legislature, of which he was speaker for one term, he became associated with Lewis Baker, editor of the Wheeling Register. In 1884 the two went to St. Paul, Minn., and purchased the Globe in that city.

After spending some years there Captain Moffett went to the Pacific coast. Returning East he settled in Parkersburg, W. Va.

He was an uncle of James A. Moffett, second vice president of the Standard Oil company. H. A. Moffett, his only son, is manager for the same company at Kansas City.

Boy Who Would Shoot Fish Is Himself Killed by Rifle.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 31.—Walter Gudbaur, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gudbaur of Scanlon, three miles from Cloquet, was accidentally shot with a rifle. Gudbaur and a boy companion were fishing in the St. Louis river. They had landed several large fish, but with difficulty, so they conceived the idea of shooting the fish just as they raised them above the water.

Gudbaur got his gun and laid it in the bottom of the boat and as the boys put out on the river he kicked the gun. The bullet was discharged in his face, entering the brain through the forehead.

ENGLISH JOURNAL ON TOLLS

Nation Characterizes Britain's Protest as Blunder.

London, Aug. 31.—The only English journal thus far to approve the Panama canal tolls act, as recently passed by the United States congress, is the Nation, a radical weekly, which, in its leading article argues that the exemption by the act of American coastwise ships from the payment of canal tolls has not violated the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

"Fair minded people," the Nation says, "must recognize that the exemption clause is not a new grievance upon the trade of this or any other country."

It characterizes as "a serious blunder" Great Britain's protest against the clause, and adds that "no American government could concede a point involving incidentally so grave a disturbance of a deep rooted policy and we do not for a moment believe that any international tribunal would decide the matter in our favor."

An Unsinkable "Boat."

Among the water vehicles the most extraordinary is the catamaran of the Madras fishermen. It consists of three logs lashed together flush with the surface of the water and is propelled with a single oar. The catamaran is really unsinkable and in rough weather could be used when an ordinary boat could not.

CONVICT MAY RETAIN OFFICE

Burke of Philadelphia Considers Withdrawing Resignation.

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—William Burke, the reform councilman who sent his resignation to that body when he wrote a confession of his life as a convict, said that he would withdraw the resignation if requested to do so by Mayor Blankenburg. The mayor is out of Philadelphia on a vacation and beyond expressing sympathy for Burke and offering him his assistance has not indicated whether or not he desires Burke to retain his seat in the council.

Burke's resignation has not yet been placed officially before the council, as it was sent during the summer recess, which will not end until next month.

PAPERS ARE SERVED ON THE ASTOR BABY

Must Appear in Court in Person or by Guardian.

New York, Aug. 31.—John Jacob Astor, the posthumous heir of Colonel John Jacob Astor, who went down with the Titanic, was formally served with papers in legal proceedings for the reprobating of the will left by his father.

Dr. Edward B. Cragin, the attending physician at the baby's birth, reported to the surrogate that he had served notice on the infant that he appear in court on Sept. 4, either in person or by a guardian, to attend the reprobating. Mrs. Astor was served with similar papers.

Colonel Astor's will had been probated before the baby was born and the reopening of the probate was made necessary by the birth, as the infant is named as a beneficiary and must appear by guardian. Surrogate Fowler appointed E. L. Winthrop as guardian in the reprobating proceedings.

DEMOCRATIC TEXT BOOK OUT

Republican 1904 Campaign Contributions Attacked by Committee.

New York, Aug. 31.—The Democratic text book for the 1912 campaign, a book of more than 400 pages, is out. It is the joint publication of the Democratic national committee and the Democratic congressional committee. Its contents include the platforms of three parties, the speeches of acceptance of Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall and a mass of matter on the tariff and high cost of living.

At the same time the national committee gave out an article calling attention to the publication in the text book of a purported receipt for a $10,000 contribution by the United States Steel corporation to the Republican campaign fund of 1904.

COMMERCIAL CONGRESS ENDS

Work Mapped Out Includes Campaign for Better Farming.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 31.—Work mapped out for the Transmississippi Commercial congress at the twenty-third annual session, which closed here, includes a campaign for the betterment of farming, amendments to the interstate commerce law, agitation for the reduction of fire losses, "see America first" propaganda, improvements of the gulf ports and flood prevention on the Mississippi.

James H. Brady of Ponatello, Idaho, whose selection as president was confirmed by the congress, and John L. Powell of Wichita, Kan., the new vice president, announced that they had agreed to push the work of the congress in their respective territories so that an impressive showing might be made at the 1913 meeting in Wichita.

Michigan Justice Dead.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 31.—Justice Charles A. Blair of the state supreme court died here after several weeks' sickness. He was born in Jackson, Mich., in 1854 and was the son of Austin Blair, who was known as "Michigan's war governor."

CONGRESS GOT
TIRED OF ITSELF

Nothing Was Being Accomplished, So Members Wanted to Quit.

POLITICS HAD RIGHT OF WAY.

Senator Bailey Predicts That the Democrats Will Control the Government For the Next Fifty Years—Session Was Most Strenuous Ever Had in Conferences Between Houses.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 31.—[Special.]—Probably one reason why congress became so weary of itself and wanted to get away was because nothing was being accomplished. The longer congress remained in session the less use it seemed to be. Long before the end all possible campaign material had been duly printed so as to give it free entry to the mail, and when all is said and done there is not very much more expected from a congress in a presidential year. The politics injected into the debates during the close of the session showed extreme bitterness and a discontent rarely known. If the senators and members of congress who spoke represented the feelings of the people this is likely to be a very intense political campaign.

Brighter For Bailey.

Senator Bailey contributed interest to the political discussion when he predicted that the Democrats would control the government for the next fifty years. And Bailey is about to retire to private life. More than that, he says he left the senate because he was not in harmony with the prevailing sentiment in the Democratic party. "Even Senator Bacon will no longer support me in my fight for Democratic principles and upholding the constitution," said the Texas senator. And yet he says this Democratic party, which has drifted so far from him that he had to leave politics, is to have control for half a century. Certainly things are looking brighter for Bailey.

Champ Clark, Optimist.

Much is to be accomplished by the Democratic party when it comes into full control of the government after the 4th of March, according to Speaker Clark in his farewell to congress. Champ also gave the keynote of the Democratic campaign, which is that all the good things which the Democrats would have accomplished were stopped by President Taft. Champ is certainly an optimist, or can make it appear so, when we all know that the loss of the great prize at Baltimore still rankles him.

"Most Strenuous Time."

"This session has been the most strenuous time we have ever had in conferences with the other house," remarked Senator Warren, chairman of the committee on appropriations. Warren was being criticised for something which had been done in conference. He was also commiserated for having so much conference work to do. This, however, was in sarcasm, as senators are very sore because Warren has been a conferee on more than half a dozen big appropriation bills. Next year they intend to relieve him of so much responsibility, and he will have a less "strenuous time."

"Hands Up."

When it was proposed to attach to the deficiency appropriation bill that graft of many years, an extra month's salary to the employees of congress, Chairman Warren remarked that it reminded him of happenings in the west many years ago, when people had to obey the command, "Hands up!" At that time in the sessions, owing to the lack of a quorum, the committee had to submit to "holdups" of that kind.

Valuable Moment.

Senator John Sharp Williams was discussing the universal topic and criticizing the ex-president for speaking slightly of Thomas Jefferson. He was having a controversy with Senator Borah and in the course of his remarks said, "I long ago offered a chromo, and I will give it to the senator from Idaho willingly and pay $2.50 for it." "I hope the senator's picture will accompany it," interrupted Borah. "That will make it a memento worth preserving."

"I will present him a chromo," continued the Mississippi senator, "if he can quote anything from ex-President Roosevelt regarding any president who ever sat in the White House except Abraham Lincoln and himself that was complimentary at all."

"He's Little, but, Oh, My!"

"Burnett, buildings and battleships," might be the title of a little story of congressional experience. Burnett is the smallest man in the house. He is the second man on the public buildings committee, and, as the chairman of that committee was running for the senate in Texas, Burnett became the acting chairman. He wanted a public building bill. The Democrats in the interests of economy decided against one. Burnett decided against battleships, and he won a partial victory. One battleship only was the result of a long fought contest. But there were no public buildings. Nor was Burnett, who is chairman of the immigration committee, able to get his immigration bill passed. It is easier to defeat legislation than pass it.

DISEASE KILLS 1,500 HORSES

Kansas Governor Asks Federal Aid to Check Mysterious Malady.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 31.—Governor Stubbs telegraphed an appeal to President Taft asking the chief executive to dispatch government experts into Western Kansas immediately in an effort to stop the spread of a mysterious disease that has within the last three weeks killed 1,500 horses.

In addition Governor Stubbs has ordered every expert of the Kansas veterinary board to proceed into the counties affected and attempt to conquer the disease.

FALLS TWO THOUSAND
FEET FROM BALLOONTragic Death of Boy Horrifies
County Fair Crowd.

Flint, Mich., Aug. 31.—In the presence of hundreds of people fourteen-year-old Chester Betts, son of Bert N. Betts of Flint, was accidentally caught by the guy rope of a balloon and carried about 2,000 feet in the air before the rope untangled and hurled him to his death. He crashed against the roof of a barn. He was still alive when spectators reached him, but soon expired.

The tragedy occurred at the county fair and when the balloon and aeronaut shot upward many people thought the youth dangling at the end of a rope was a dummy. The heroic efforts of the balloonist to rescue the boy soon disclosed the truth to the crowd below. As the big gas bag crept higher and higher the aeronaut, in peril of his own safety, could be seen working desperately to pull the dangling form to the trapeze. Finally the rope swirled away from the lad and the tiny form dropped downward like a stone.

GOVERNOR CAN'T JOIN CLUB

Minnesota Attorney General Construes Corrupt Practices Act.

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—Candidates for office will violate the corrupt practices law if they join a political club during the campaign, which charges fees or dues, according to Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, who gave the opinion to Governor A. O. Eberhart. The governor had been asked to join a club which charges a dollar admission fee and asked whether this was permissible. The attorney general holds it comes under the head of contributions prohibited by the new law.

WAGE SCALE IS REJECTED

Chicago Controversy Is to Be Settled by Arbitration.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Rejection of the new three-year contract granting a cent an hour increase in pay was the outcome of balloting of 10,000 Chicago street car men. A prominent official of the union said the proposed wage agreement had been overwhelmingly defeated.

The president of the companies said the chance of a strike was remote, as the whole question now will revert to arbitration.

FORMER ST. PAUL MAN DIES

Captain Moffett, Once Part Owner of the Globe, Succumbs.

Waynesboro, Va., Aug. 31.—Captain George H. Moffett, who died here at a summer resort after a brief illness, was one of the framers of West Virginia's constitution and a railroad builder well known throughout the West.

After serving several years in the West Virginia legislature, of which he was speaker for one term, he became associated with Lewis Baker, editor of the Wheeling Register. In 1884 the two went to St. Paul, Minn., and purchased the Globe in that city.

After spending some years there Captain Moffett went to the Pacific coast. Returning East he settled in Parkersburg, W. Va.

He was an uncle of James A. Moffett, second vice president of the Standard Oil company. H. A. Moffett, his only son, is manager for the same company at Kansas City.

NOVEL IDEA LEADS TO DEATH

Boy Who Would Shoot Fish Is Himself Killed by Rifle.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 31.—Walter Gudbaur, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gudbaur of Scanlon, three miles from Cloquet, was accidentally shot with a rifle. Gudbaur and a boy companion were fishing in the St. Louis river. They had landed several large fish, but with difficulty, so they conceived the idea of shooting the fish just as they raised them above the water.

Gudbaur got his gun and laid it in the bottom of the boat and as the boys put out on the river he kicked the gun. The bullet was discharged in his face, entering the brain through the forehead.

ENGLISH JOURNAL ON TOLLS

Nation Characterizes Britain's Protest as Blunder.

London, Aug. 31.—The only English journal thus far to approve the Panama canal tolls act, as recently passed by the United States congress, is the Nation, a radical weekly, which, in its leading article argues that the exemption by the act of American coastwise ships from the payment of canal tolls has not violated the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

"Fair minded people," the Nation says, "must recognize that the exempting clause is not a new grievance upon the trade of this or any other country."

It characterizes as "a serious blunder" Great Britain's protest against the clause, and adds that "no American government could concede a point involving incidentally so grave a disturbance of a deep rooted policy and we do not for a moment believe that any international tribunal would decide the matter in our favor."

An Unsinkable "Boat."

Among the water vehicles the most extraordinary is the catamaran of the Madras fishermen. It consists of three logs lashed together flush with the surface of the water and is propelled with a single oar. The catamaran is really unsinkable and in rough weather could be used when an ordinary boat could not.

Governor Wilson Declares for Neighborhood Meetings.

SPEAKS AT A COUNTY FAIR

Democratic Presidential Candidate Says Public Schools Furnish Ideal Places to Assemble and Discuss Public Affairs—Asserts Idea Has Made Some Politicians Feel Uneasy.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 31.—Neighborhood consultation and a more extensive use of schoolhouses for gatherings where public opinion might be conserved were the things Governor Wilson advocated in his speech at the Monmouth county fair at Redbank, N. J.

After a series of conferences the governor motored to Dedband and was cheered as he entered the fair grounds. "There is one thing in which I have been very much interested in recent years in this country," he said. "You know I used to be a schoolmaster and the interesting thing about the schools of the United States is that the United States makes so limited use of them, for example, you take your schoolhouses all through the countryside, standing here, there and everywhere, in the cities, and they are closed for the most part between the school session of one day and the school session of the next day."

"They are public buildings. They belong to the communities. They furnish ideal places in which to assemble and discuss public affairs. They are just what we need for neighborhood conferences of every kind."

"And yet it was reserved for a recent date for somebody to suggest that the schoolhouses be made social centers; that they be used for every kind of legitimate conference; and just so soon as they begin to be used for conferences some politicians begin to get very uneasy."

"There is a certain class of politician that dreads nothing as much as that the neighbors should get together and talk things over, because the minute you begin to talk things over you begin to make that most powerful instrument that exists in any free country, I mean public opinion. If you once gather public opinion into nuclei, into heads, into centers, then something is going to happen with regard to the action of politics itself."

Get Together and Stay Together.

"Why don't you agree to bear the small expense that will be incident to your using your own buildings to do your own business in the public interest? I believe that this country is absolutely determined now to free itself from artificial influence and private influences of all sorts, but it cannot do it unless you will take suggestions of this sort. I can't do it unless you get together and stay together and the whole dynamics of it, the whole force of it, the whole power of it, is going to come not from your public men, but from yourselves."

"Now, of course, you know the reason that a public man is supposed to come to a county fair. He can't always come because of his personal beauty and his desire to be looked upon. But he is supposed to come for the purpose of getting acquainted. But there is no use in getting acquainted unless he believes that by getting acquainted you will take his word for things. You will say, 'Yes, I met him; I know him. He's all right.' Now, how do you know he is all right? You can't tell it by looking at him."

"I used to think when I was a boy that you could tell an honest man by looking into his eyes, but I find you can't. I have looked into some eyes that seemed very honest and they turned out to be the eyes of a rogue and you repeat that experience a little while until you get to be about, say, fifty-five years old, and then you don't allow appearances to impose on you. "I want to know a man's table of contents. You want to know what is in him and then when you have found what is in him you want to discuss it with the neighbors, whether that is the right table of contents or not, whether it stands for things that are genuine, that are consistent with your interests, and so long as you don't hold meetings and confer about these things your public men can impose upon you to the top of their bent by merely telling you that certain things are so when you don't know whether they are or not."

GRAND EXHIBIT OF COUNTY PRODUCTS

Wheat, Rye, Oats, Millet, Alfalfa, Corn, Clover, Timothy, Vegetables, Etc.

AGNES CORNELISON'S EXHIBIT

Peoria Girl Shows Products of Deerwood Garden—Wise's Alfalfa—Zapffe's Carrots

A visit at the Lagerquist block on the corner of Sixth and Maple streets will convince any one that Crow Wing county has this year the finest crops seen in a decade. A committee of the Commercial club is this afternoon engaged in judging the different displays made by the farmers, truck gardeners and residents of the county and awarding the comprehensive list of prizes raised by the Commercial club. Through this process the best displays will be sifted out and they will form the foundation for the Crow Wing county exhibit at the state fair, and remember, this is the first state fair exhibit made by Crow Wing county in 20 years.

The display to be made in agricultural hall is of such a nature that Crow Wing county is sure to capture a prize of some kind. Never were finer samples of crops seen in the history of residents of this county.

Taking the samples as they are on display at the Lagerquist block one sees a fine stand of No. 13 corn contributed by M. Pratt, of Merrifield. Near by are late potatoes, and various kinds of table beets, early cabbage and a stand of Northwest Dent corn given by C. P. Moore, of Merrifield. Oats in sheaf are given by Joseph Leitner, of Merrifield.

J. W. Bouck, of Long Lake, sent in a sheaf of oats and a sheaf of rye. H. C. Hughey, of Long Lake, oats in sheaf, timothy in sheaf, Early Ohio and Burbank potatoes, plums, rutabagas, carrots, honey and a jar of butter. F. D. Joy, of Long Lake, a jar of butter.

Miss Agnes Cornelison, who is a Peoria, Ill., summer resident on the beautiful farm her parents have on the shores of Serpent lake near Deerwood, has a comprehensive display of garden produce. Her celery, peas, green peppers, Sutton's prize winner runner beans 10 inches or more in length, green Windsor, Lima beans, cabbage, cauliflower, and string beans are unexcelled and are a remarkable tribute to her capability as a gardener and to the excellent soil of the country. Of exceptional interest is a pea vine 6 feet in height, its pods carrying 9 and 10 peas.

From Daggett Brook township Ole Anderson sent yellow dent corn, comb honey, strained honey and pumpkins. George Fleishacker, sheaf of rye and wheat and table beets. Robert Fuchs, sheaf of flax and standard apples. Marion Caughey, jar of butter.

From St. Mathias T. H. Harris sent rutabagas, cabbage, cucumbers, early potatoes. Swan Bjerklund exhibited Early Ohio and Burbank potatoes, sheaves of oats and clover and cabbage.

From Bay Lake C. E. Skillings sent a stand of corn, Early Ohio potatoes, raspberry canes. A. Ruggles, marble cucumbers, table beans and turban squash.

From Oak Lawn Carl Wheeler sent a stand of oats and Burbank potatoes.

From Platte Lake J. W. Hegy sent a sheaf of blue joint. Frank Walker sent Burbank potatoes. Mrs. Henriette Wacholtz sent a sheaf of oats and a sheaf of clover. John Norman sent oats and blue joint.

From Garrison J. H. Harrison sent millet and corn.

R. R. Wise sent samples of second cutting of alfalfa from his Long Lake farm, also carrots and stands of rye and timothy. E. W. Dunn, of the city, sent a sheaf of water grass. L. A. Canfield, pop corn, sweet corn and yellow Dent corn. Albert Fox sent clover, timothy, cabbage beets, carrots, red onions, Carman No. 3 potatoes, Early Ohio potatoes and kohlrabi. Marcus Martin, Early Ohio potatoes. Warren Campbell, early Dutch cabbage. Carl Zapffe, carrots weighing respectively 1 and 3-8 and 1 and 1-8, and 1 and 1-4 pounds. I. T. Dean, rhubarb. J. A. Wilson, a sheaf of a new variety of wheat he is developing. J. M. Elder, crabapples. M. K. Swartz, samples of crabapples.

From Crow Wing F. Maddock sent black Minorca eggs. George Spiess of township 133, range 29, sent tomatoes.

The iron industry of Crow Wing county was not neglected and the finest samples of ore ever produced at the Kennedy, the Armour No. 1, Armour No. 2, Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and Barrows mines are shown.

W. H. Cloud, of Pequot, was in the city yesterday accompanying the Pequot exhibit to the state fair. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the exhibits secured at Brainerd.

In conclusion, it is incumbent on everyone in the county to go to the state fair this year, if for no other reason than to see how Crow Wing county's exhibit looks and stacks up with the other exhibits at the fair.

STATE WINS A BIG LAWSUIT

Secures $21,000 Verdict in Timber Case Against Brooks-Scanlon Co., Heard by Judge McClenahan

PROSECUTED BY A. L. JAMES

People Pleased with Success of Atty. Gen. Smith Protecting the State's Interest

The state has won its suit against the Scanlon-Brooks timber company, heard before Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, and a judgment of $21,000 has been awarded the state against the timber people. The suit was instituted by former Attorney General Simpson and continued by the present Attorney General, Lyndon A. Smith. The case of the state was handled at Brainerd by the assistant attorney general, A. L. James, of St. Paul.

The suit was based on additional timber which the state alleged the company had cut and which amounted to about 3,000,000 feet, such timber being unpaid for. A portion of the evidence was secured from the Pacific coast, the state being assisted by the man who originally scaled the timber. Judge Seale represented the defense.

People are well satisfied with the manner in which Lyndon A. Smith has conducted his duties as the attorney general of Minnesota. Since January 1, 1912, there has been collected from inheritance taxes, gross earnings and litigation of all kinds, $700,000 and the cash turned over to the treasurer of the state.

Not Mr. Fredstrom

By mistake the name of Frank Fredstrom was quoted as the milkman who gave the interview on the milk situation. It was not Mr. Fredstrom, the error arising from a telephone message.

Mr. Christie and wife will sing at this service also.

Indian Killed on Track

Near Rochelle, Ill., an Indian went to sleep on a railroad track and was killed by the fast express. He paid for his carelessness with his life. Often it is that way when people neglect coughs and colds. Don't risk your life when prompt use of Dr. King's New Discovery will cure them and so prevent a dangerous throat or lung trouble. "It completely cured me, in a short time, of a terrible cough that followed a severe attack of Grip," writes J. R. Watts, Floydada, Tex., "and I regained 15 pounds in weight that I had lost." Quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

ST. CLOUD MAY GET IT

Next State Federation of Labor Convention May be Held in the Granite City

In spite of the fact that at the last meeting of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor it was voted to hold the next convention at International Falls, St. Cloud may land the honor. The executive council of the state associations, says the Duluth Herald, will hold its quarterly meeting at St. Paul a week from Sunday. The council was given the right at the Brainerd convention to change the next convention place if better railroad and hotel rates could be secured from some other city.

St. Cloud hotel men and St. Cloud trade unionists are hot after the next convention and it is possible that the meeting place may be changed to the city. A delegation of St. Cloud men will present the claims of that city for the next convention at the executive committee meeting at St. Paul. Secretary McEwen, of Duluth, P. T. Brown, of Brainerd, the second vice president of this district, and other members of the executive board will attend the meeting.

EIGHT POUND TURNIP

Raised on the Farm of Rural Carrier Albert Young—How Alleged Gold Was Found

In speaking of the bountiful crops of Crow Wing county, Rural Mail Carrier Albert Young has a patch of white turnips on his farm in the southwest quarter of section 21, township 45, range 30, from which was taken the other day a specimen measuring 10 inches in diameter and weighing 8 pounds. The turnip was brought to The Dispatch office.

The farm is of undoubted richness in many ways and has produced bumper crops for a number of years and is also supposed to contain a very large and valuable deposit of iron ore and is the same place, says L. A. Canfield, where its former owner claimed to pump gold out of his well.

"Yes," said Mr. H., the then owner, "here is the assayer's certificate and here is some of the dust. See that large piece there."

"I see some metal look like that," said Canfield, "but I never saw a gold nugget look that sharp and jagged on the edge and curled up with water either. I guess if you take that brass rod out of the top of the pump you won't see much more of your gold." For there was where it came from, the brass rod having worn against the stuffing box and allowing the shavings to fall into the water as it was pumped.

Will the one who borrowed the flag belonging to the G. A. R. from Mr. Dean please return the same to Dean's undertaking establishment.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by ear) by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. That cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

HE'S THE HONEY MAN

J. J. Crowell, of Dykeman, Has 102 Colonies of Bees and Two Tons of Honey

There was in the city yesterday a man who has made a signal success in the honey business, so much so in fact, that his friends and neighbors call J. J. Crowell, of Dykeman, the "Honey Man." On his 40 acre farm in the Mille Lacs lake district he has 102 colonies of bees and this year their production of honey was two tons and over.

At his bee farm or apiary, Mr. Crowell has the latest kinds of hives, extractors and other appliances. The bees feed on the white clover and basswood and as a result the honey is of an excellent quality and taste. The honey is extracted and placed in pint jars, tastefully labeled and the product is handled by many merchants of the city to whom Mr. Crowell wholesales it. Mr. Crowell has handled bees for 15 years and has never been stung by one.

GRAND EXHIBIT OF COUNTY PRODUCTS

Wheat, Rye, Oats, Millet, Alfalfa, Corn, Clover, Timothy, Vegetables, Etc.

Peoria Girl Shows Products of Deerwood Garden—Wise's Alfalfa—Zapffe's Carrots

A visit at the Lagerquist block on the corner of Sixth and Maple streets will convince any one that Crow Wing county has this year the finest crops seen in a decade. A committee of the Commercial club is this afternoon engaged in judging the different displays made by the farmers, truck gardeners and residents of the county and awarding the comprehensive list of prizes raised by the Commercial club. Through this process the best displays will be sifted out and they will form the foundation for the Crow Wing county exhibit at the state fair, and remember, this is the first state fair exhibit made by Crow Wing county in 20 years.

The display to be made in agricultural hall is of such a nature that Crow Wing county is sure to capture a prize of some kind. Never were finer samples of crops seen in the history of residents of this county.

Taking the samples as they are on display at the Lagerquist block one sees a fine stand of No. 13 corn contributed by M. Pratt, of Merrifield. Near by are late potatoes, and various kinds of table beets, early cabbage and a stand of Northwest Dent corn given by C. P. Moore, of Merrifield. Oats in sheaf are given by Joseph Leitner, of Merrifield.

J. W. Bouck, of Long Lake, sent in a sheaf of oats and a sheaf of rye. H. C. Hughey, of Long Lake, oats in sheaf, timothy in sheaf, Early Ohio and Burbank potatoes, plums, rutabagas, carrots, honey and a jar of butter. F. D. Joy, of Long Lake, a jar of butter.

Miss Agnes Cornelison, who is a Peoria, Ill., summer resident on the beautiful farm her parents have on the shores of Serpentine lake near Deerwood, has a comprehensive display of garden produce. Her celery, peas, green peppers, Sutton's prize winner runner beans 10 inches or more in length, green Windsor, Lima beans, cabbage, cauliflower, and string beans are unexcelled and are a remarkable tribute to her capability as a gardener and to the excellent soil of the country. Of exceptional interest is a pea vine 6 feet in height, its pods carrying 9 and 10 peas.

From Daggett Brook township Ole Anderson sent yellow dent corn, comb honey, strained honey and pumpkins. George Fleischacker, sheaf of rye and wheat and table beets. Robert Fuchs, sheaf of flax and standard

apples. Marion Caughey, jar of butter.

From St. Mathias T. H. Harris sent rutabagas, cabbage, cucumbers, early potatoes. Swan Bjerklund exhibited Early Ohio and Burbank potatoes, sheaves of oats and clover and cabbage.

From Bay Lake C. E. Skillings sent a stand of corn. Early Ohio potatoes, raspberry canes. A. Ruggles, marble cucumbers, table beans and turban squash.

From Oak Lawn Carl Wheeler sent a stand of oats and Burbank potatoes.

From Platte Lake J. W. Hegy sent a sheaf of blue joint. Frank Walker sent Burbank potatoes. Mrs. Henriette Wacholtz sent a sheaf of oats and a sheaf of clover. John Norman sent oats and blue joint.

From Garrison J. H. Harrison sent millet and corn.

R. R. Wise sent samples of second cutting of alfalfa from his Long Lake farm, also carrots and stands of rye and timothy. E. W. Dunn, of the city, sent a sheaf of water grass. L. A. Canfield, pop corn, sweet corn and yellow Dent corn. Albert Fox sent clover, timothy, cabbage beets, carrots, red onions, Carman No. 3 potatoes, Early Ohio potatoes and kohlrabi. Marcus Martin, Early Ohio potatoes. Warren Campbell, early Dutch cabbage. Carl Zapffe, carrots weighing respectively 1 and 3-8 and 1 and 1-8, and 1 and 1-4 pounds. I. T. Dean, rhubarb. J. A. Wilson, a sheaf of a new variety of wheat he is developing. J. M. Elder, crabapples. M. K. Swartz, samples of crabapples.

From Crow Wing F. Maddock sent black Minorec eggs. George Spless of township 133, range 29, sent tomatoes.

The iron industry of Crow Wing county was not neglected and the finest samples of ore ever produced at the Kennedy, the Armour No. 1, Armour No. 2, Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and Barrows mines are shown.

W. H. Cloud, of Pequot, was in the city yesterday accompanying the Pequot exhibit to the state fair. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the exhibits secured at Brainerd.

In conclusion, it is incumbent on everyone in the county to go to the state fair this year, if for no other reason than to see how Crow Wing county's exhibit looks and stacks up with the other exhibits at the fair.

STATE WINS A BIG LAWSUIT

Secures $21,000 Verdict in Timber Case Against Brooks-Scanlon Co., Heard by Judge McClenahan

PROSECUTED BY A. L. JAMES

People Pleased with Success of Atty. Gen. Smith Protecting the State's Interest

The state has won its suit against the Scanlon-Brooks timber company, heard before Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, and a judgment of $21,000 has been awarded the state against the timber people. The suit was instituted by former Attorney General Simpson and continued by the present Attorney General, Lyndon A. Smith. The case of the state was handled at Brainerd by the assistant attorney general, A. L. James, of St. Paul.

The suit was based on additional timber which the state alleged the company had cut and which amounted to about 3,000,000 feet, such timber being unpaid for. A portion of the evidence was secured from the Pacific coast, the state being assisted by the man who originally scaled the timber. Judge Searle represented the defense.

People are well satisfied with the manner in which Lyndon A. Smith has conducted his duties as the attorney general of Minnesota. Since January 1, 1912, there has been collected from inheritance taxes, gross earnings and litigation of all kinds, $700,000 and the cash turned over to the treasurer of the state.

ST. CLOUD MAY GET IT

Next State Federation of Labor Convention May be Held in the Granite City

In spite of the fact that at the last meeting of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor it was voted to hold the next convention at International Falls, St. Cloud may land the honor. The executive council of the state associations, says the Duluth Herald, will hold its quarterly meeting at St. Paul a week from Sunday. The council was given the right at the Brainerd convention to change the next convention place if better railroad and hotel rates could be secured from some other city.

St. Cloud hotel men and St. Cloud trade unionists are hot after the next convention and it is possible that the meeting place may be changed to the city. A delegation of St. Cloud men will present the claims of that city for the next convention at the executive committee meeting at St. Paul. Secretary McEwen, of Duluth, P. T. Brown, of Brainerd, the second vice president of this district, and other members of the executive board will attend the meeting.

The Door to Succe$$

Opens Monday, September 2nd

Monday, September 2nd the Little Falls Business College will open for the new school year. A large number of young men and women will enroll at that time to take their business course.

Now is the time when you are wondering what you should do for your boy or your girl. You find it a hard problem. You wish to do the best you can for them, with the means at your command. It is a question to be thought over quietly and decided carefully.

The best gift you can give your children is an education—a training that will enable them to go out into the world and make good.

The training that will best do this is a practical Business Education—an education that trains for the great profession of business. There are over three thousand different lines of business today, and each one is a profession in itself, in that it requires training to succeed in them. The untrained man is sadly handicapped now-a-days. It is the trained man who wins.

This important work of training young men and women for business was started and is being carried on by the modern business colleges all over the world.

The modern business college has grown from a humble beginning into national importance. It is today directly responsible for the successful start in business of a third of a million young people every year. This is said to be greater than the total enrollment in all other colleges and universities combined. The commercial school is respected by educators and business men alike for the effectiveness of its courses of study and the directness of its results.

It has revolutionized business by abolishing the old "apprentice system." Business men now know that their time is too valuable to train their helpers, because commercial colleges are doing it better and in less time. It has given to business a new standard of accuracy and efficiency, by doing away with old-style methods and training of Young men and women to new standards of education from the theoretical to the practical. Not in the history of a thousand years has educational thought been directed toward the practical as it has in the last half century; and for this the business college and other technical schools are directly responsible.

These are strong claims, but they are proved beyond question by the attitude of the thousands of business firms who look to the commercial schools every year for trained helpers, and by the hundreds of thousands of young people who are today expecting to secure a business education because they have seen the success of others who have had a similar training.

WHAT WE TEACH

We confine ourselves exclusively to instructions in such practical studies as Bookkeeping, Business Letter Writing, Shorthand, Typewriting, Penmanship, Business Arithmetic, Spelling, Commercial Law, etc. Our course is simple, direct, effective.

WHY OUR INSTRUCTION IS PRACTICAL

We train the hand and eye together with the mind. We do not consider knowledge valuable until the student has learned to do what he understands how to do. Our bookkeepers do not merely theorize about bookkeeping—they keep books. Our stenographers are not only trained in shorthand and typewriting but are developed into competent all round office assistants. Our students are taught how to become successful business men and women.

WE ASSIST OUR GRADUATES

Our relations with students do not cease when they graduate. We make it our business to secure positions for them and keep in touch with them as long as they desire our assistance.

A BUSINESS TRAINING FOR ALL

The Little Falls Business College does not limit itself to the training of bookkeepers and stenographers. It gives a practical training that is necessary in every walk of life. No matter in what industry or profession you may engage, a knowledge of business is absolutely necessary.

COURSES OF STUDY

The Shorthand and Typewriting Course

This course includes Shorthand, Typewriting, Penmanship, Correspondence and Business English—Practical Business Spelling and Business Forms. This course requires from seven to nine months to complete.

The Bookkeeping Course

This course includes Bookkeeping (beginning—advanced and business practice,) Penmanship, Correspondence, Business English, Commercial Law. This course requires from five to seven months to complete.

THE COMBINED COURSE

This is the course we urged you to take. It is the one that best fits you for a good position. After completing this course you can then go out as a stenographer or a bookkeeper or to an office where they require you to do both. You can easily see that you have a great advantage over the student who takes only one course. What is more, it does not take double the time of either of the other two courses, as many of the same subjects are taught in each course.

IT INCLUDES

Shorthand, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Correspondence, and Business English, Commercial Arithmetic, Practical Business Spelling, Business Forms, Commercial Law.

The length of time required to complete this course depends largely on the student, his previous education and how hard he works. From eight to twelve months should be spent on this course. Some spend as high as fifteen months. When plenty of time is given to the Combined Course the student is always sure of good results and a good position.

The Little Falls Business College has always enjoyed the confidence of the people of this city. Each year we enroll from eight to ten students from Brainerd. Indications are that we will have from ten to fifteen this present season.

POSITIONS

The success of our graduates has created a heavy demand for our stenographers and bookkeepers. We have more calls than we can fill. Getting positions is not so difficult as getting students ready for them. Business men are asking more now-a-days from their help—that is, they want their office assistants to be more than mere machines or just stenographers and bookkeepers. They want young men and women trained in OFFICE PRACTICE who can think and act for themselves when necessary.

The training and preparation we give you insures your success. We see to it that you have a position—it is to our interest—that is our business. We have an Employment Department for that very purpose. We realize that every capable student placed in a position is the best possible advertisement we can have.

GUARANTEEING POSITIONS

It is unfortunate for young, inexperienced people that there are a number of "fake" schools, calling themselves business colleges, who guarantee situations in order to secure patronage.

Such schools promise situations to anyone who will pay the required tuition fee. They care little for the character or standing of the student, or for his success. What they want is the money, and the students in the end "get the experience."

The "guarantee" school has several methods by which to avoid its contract. One plan is to make the final examination so difficult that the student cannot pass the same, and thus failing in one of the requirements, he forfeits his right under the "guarantee" to be furnished with a position.

The course of instruction he has received is so superficial that he cannot secure employment on his merits, and having spent all his money, he goes home discouraged and disappointed, and as a rule never makes another attempt to qualify himself for business life; thus his time and his money are both thrown away.

A school that "guarantees situations" is a good school to avoid; while upon the other hand, a good school to attend is the one that guarantees to furnish facilities by which its students may secure a thorough, successful business or shorthand education.

A good school also is one that, while it does not guarantee situations, is nevertheless constantly placing in good positions its worthy graduates.

Below are the names of a few of our graduates who are at the present time employed in Brainerd. Probably you know some of them. If so, feel free to ask them about the school and what we can do for your boy or girl.

The Door to Succe$$

Opens Monday, September 2nd

Monday, September 2nd the Little Falls Business College will open for the new school year. A large number of young men and women will enroll at that time to take their business course.

Now is the time when you are wondering what you should do for your boy or your girl. You find it a hard problem. You wish to do the best you can for them, with the means at your command. It is a question to be thought over quietly and decided carefully.

The best gift you can give your children is an education—a training that will enable them to go out into the world and make good.

The training that will best do this is a practical Business Education—an education that trains for the great profession of business. There are over three thousand different lines of business today, and each one is a profession in itself, in that it requires training to succeed in them. The untrained man is sadly handicapped now-a-days. It is the trained man who wins.

This important work of training young men and women for business was started and is being carried on by the modern business colleges all over the world.

The modern business college has grown from a humble beginning into national importance. It is today directly responsible for the successful start in business of a third of a million young people every year. This is said to be greater than the total enrollment in all other colleges and universities combined. The commercial school is respected by educators and business men alike for the effectiveness of its courses of study and the directness of its results.

It has revolutionized business by abolishing the old "apprentice system." Business men now know that their time is too valuable to train their helpers, because commercial colleges are doing it better and in less time. It has given to business a new standard of accuracy and efficiency, by doing away with old-style methods and training of Young men and women to new standards of education from the theoretical to the practical. Not in the history of a thousand years has educational thought been directed toward the practical as it has in the last half century; and for this the business college and other technical schools are directly responsible.

These are strong claims, but they are proved beyond question by the attitude of the thousands of business firms who look to the commercial schools every year for trained helpers, and by the hundreds of thousands of young people who are today expecting to secure a business education because they have seen the success of others who have had a similar training.

WHAT WE TEACH

We confine ourselves exclusively to instructions in such practical studies as Book-keeping, Business Letter Writing, Shorthand, Typewriting, Penmanship, Business Arithmetic, Spelling, Commercial Law, etc. Our course is simple, direct, effective.

WHY OUR INSTRUCTION IS PRACTICAL

We train the hand and eye together with the mind. We do not consider knowledge valuable until the student has learned to do what he understands how to do. Our book-keepers do not merely theorize about bookkeeping—they keep Books. Our stenographers are not only trained in shorthand and typewriting but are developed into competent all 'round office assistants. Our students are taught how to become successful business men and women.

WE ASSIST OUR GRADUATES

Our relations with students do not cease when they graduate. We make it our business to secure positions for them and keep in touch with them as long as they desire our assistance.

A BUSINESS TRAINING FOR ALL

The Little Falls Business College does not limit itself to the training of bookkeepers and stenographers. It gives a practical training that is necessary in every walk of life. No matter in what industry or profession you may engage, a knowledge of business is absolutely necessary.
